PIP QI update

As the PIP QI launch date of 1 August draws closer, the Department of Health has added its own set of Frequently Asked Questions, as well as a "Who do I ask?" guidance document, to its suite of PIP QI resources.

We have made available the direct link to the Department of Health FAQs on our own Practice Assist Practice Incentives Program Frequently Asked Questions webpage (<https://bit.ly/2XJVdcF>). We have tailored our own FAQs towards the needs of our WA general practice audience, so we do recommend that you review both sets of frequently asked questions prior to contacting WA Primary Health Alliance, or the Department of Human Services, to ask additional questions.

For those practices who are not confident with the use of PRODA or HPOS, we have added links to the Department of Human Services online training resources to our FAQs. If you are not already using PRODA and / or HPOS, please use these educational resources to familiarise yourself with PRODA and HPOS prior to your registration for PIP QI.

We continue to encourage you to notify us of your intention to participate in PIP QI by using our PIP QI enquiry form (<https://bit.ly/2VHdiY7>). If you have not yet made contact with your Primary Health Liaison to discuss and confirm your readiness for PIP QI, please ensure that you do so as soon as possible. With the increased demand for support from our PHLs in this readiness period, we recommend you make contact promptly to ensure your practice is prepared, should it wish to participate in the new incentive. This is especially pertinent for practices that do not yet share data with WAPHA. Implementing agreements and technology that will enable your practice to share data are processes that take time to establish, so to give your practice the best opportunity to receive a payment in the first quarter (August – October) we need you to get in touch.

You can find the contact details for your Primary Health Liaison here (<https://bit.ly/32Cv0f8>), and Practice Connect will continue to deliver information updates as they are released.

Please continue to the following articles for more information on recommended timelines and activities for preparedness.

1800 2 ASSIST (1800 2 277 478) | support@practiceassist.com.au | www.practiceassist.com.au

WA Primary Health Alliance is supported by funding from the Australian Government under the PHN Program.

Rural Health West is funded by the Australian Government Department of Health and the WA Country Health Service.

Data sharing agreements with WAPHA

As part of your eligibility for PIP QI, your practice needs to have a current data sharing agreement signed with WAPHA. Practices that are currently extracting and submitting data to WAPHA will have one of these in place already (please check with your Primary Health Liaison if you are unsure). If your practice intends to participate in PIP QI and is not currently sharing data with WAPHA, we will need to execute a data sharing agreement with you.

In order to manage the increased number of practices entering into agreements in the coming weeks, WAPHA has set a recommended deadline of 25 August for a practice to finalise its data sharing agreement. This deadline is designed to allow our practice support team, as well as PEN CS, to provide you with the necessary assistance to establish the required processes for PIP QI eligibility. This may include installation of the PEN CS data extraction tools, upgrades to practice software, and training on using the PEN CS suite.

If your practice does not finalise its data sharing agreement by 25 August, we cannot guarantee that all steps for PIP QI eligibility will be completed within the time available for an eligible extraction in the first quarter (August – October 2019). Please note, however, that if your practice is unable to finalise the data sharing agreement for the first quarter, it will not necessarily affect eligibility for subsequent quarters.

Maintaining updates for PEN CS CAT4

We have received a number of queries recently about updating PEN CS CAT4 in preparation for PIP QI.

It is always recommended that, where possible, you utilise the current version of your clinical software and the data extraction tool. New versions provide you not only with improved functionality and features, but address security issues as they are identified.

We do, however, know that for many practices, updates can only be installed with the assistance of the practice's IT provider. While the PEN CS support team are experienced in installations and updates, your practice's IT systems may be configured in such a way that it requires authorisation or assistance from your IT provider. We therefore recommend that you discuss this situation with your IT provider, and decide upon an arrangement for running these updates, including notifying your IT provider of any planned PEN CS appointments so that they can be available should they be required. There is also a range of CAT Plus Guides that you can provide to your IT provider so that they understand the system requirements, which can be found by visiting <https://bit.ly/2MIYd8a>.

WA Palliative Care Summit 2019

Join Honourable Roger Cook MLA Minister for Health at the Palliative Care Summit on Saturday 24 August.

This summit aims to shape how we put into practice the strategies and recommendations from the Joint Select Committee's My Life My Choice report, End of Life and Palliative Care Strategy 2018 - 2028 and the Sustainable Health Review 2018.

Health professionals, general practitioners, palliative care specialists, health consumers and carers are encouraged to share their experiences to provide insight and influence the provision of high quality palliative care for all Western Australians.

The summit will be held in partnership with Palliative Care WA, WA Country Health Service, WA Primary Health Alliance, Palliative and Supportive Care Education and the Health Consumers' Council of WA.

To register for the event, please visit <https://bit.ly/2YupKad>.

New online bowel screening toolkit launched

With funding from the Australian government, Cancer Council Australia recently launched a nationwide media campaign to increase participation in the National Bowel Cancer Screening Program.

Your practice may receive more enquiries from patients about bowel cancer screening. Cancer Council have recently launched a new online toolkit (<https://bit.ly/2yag4qs>) to make it even easier for GPs/Nurses and other health professionals to support their patients to screen.

Currently only 4 in 10 eligible Australians complete the National Bowel Cancer Screening Program test kit when it is sent to them in the mail. If we can increase participation to 60% by 2020 and sustain this over the next 20 years, more than 84,000 lives can be saved.

Bowel cancer is our second biggest cancer killer. More than 100 Australians die each week from bowel cancer, but if found early, more than 90% of cases could be treated successfully.

The screening program is based on the in-home use of an immunochemical faecal occult blood test (FOBT). An FOBT looks for traces of blood in a stool sample (bowel motion).

The test is simple and clean and we know that after doing the test 78 per cent of people will repeat it when next invited – once people have done the test they realise how easy it is.

The Australian government now send this test kit to the homes of all eligible patients aged 50-74 every two years.

Further information can be found at www.bowelcancer.org.au or by contacting the Program Information Line on 1800 118 868.

Public consultation on diabetes products subsidised under the National Diabetes Services Scheme (NDSS)

The Department of Health is seeking your feedback in relation to the National Diabetes Services Scheme (NDSS).

The NDSS provides subsidised syringes and needles, blood glucose test strips, urine test strips, insulin pump consumables and continuous glucose monitoring (CGM) products to people with diabetes.

To ensure the NDSS continues to meet the needs of people registered with the scheme, the Department is seeking input from Australians with diabetes and other members of the community impacted by diabetes. Specifically, the Department is seeking views on additional types of products that could be considered for subsidisation under the scheme to support people to self-manage their condition.

The information collected will be used to inform future decision making in relation to the NDSS.

Your views can be provided to the Department using the online survey found by visiting <https://bit.ly/2K41xDu>. This survey will close on 25 August 2019.

Alternatively, you can print this survey using this link <https://bit.ly/2GD09p8> and mail your completed hard copy to:

New immunisation requirements for children enrolling into child care services and kindergarten programs

On 22 July 2019, changes to the Public Health Act 2016 (WA) (<https://bit.ly/2Y9RSnJ>) and the School Education Act 1999 (WA) (<https://bit.ly/2LNqISn>) came into effect that will help to increase vaccination rates of children in Western Australia (WA) and better protect the community from vaccine preventable notifiable infectious diseases.

When enrolling a child into any child care service, kindergarten or school, parents/guardians are already required to provide their child's Australian Immunisation Register (AIR) Immunisation History Statement (<https://bit.ly/2OoweHK>). This Statement must not be more than two months old.

Under these new changes, the child's immunisation status must be 'up to date' according to their AIR Immunisation History Statement for the child to be permitted to enrol into long day care, family day care, pre-kindergarten or kindergarten.

Exceptions apply to children who have an approved medical exemption to a vaccine, have natural immunity to a specific disease, are on an approved catch-up schedule, or are identified as exempt because of particular family circumstances.

Immunisation providers may receive queries from parents of children who are not currently recorded as 'up-to-date' with their immunisations on the Australian Immunisation Register (AIR).

How you can assist:

- Ensure each child's vaccinations are recorded in the AIR so that the child's AIR Immunisation History Statement will be kept up to date, and the child will be able to enrol into child care services and kindergarten programs.
- If a child is following an approved catch-up schedule, provide a copy of the child's AIR immunisation history form (<https://bit.ly/2K9gnY3>) advising the child is on a catch-up schedule to the parent/guardian, who will then need to provide it to the child care service or kindergarten for enrolment purposes.
- Continue to follow up overdue children.

For further information about WA's immunisation requirements, please visit <https://bit.ly/2K1fP7Z> where you can also access

- Starting child care, pre-kindergarten and kindergarten – a parent fact sheet (<https://bit.ly/2LNbHua>)
- WA Immunisation Requirements: Guidelines for persons in charge of child care services, community kindergartens and schools (<https://bit.ly/2O9Adb1>)

If you have further queries in relation to the new legislation, please email immunisation@health.wa.gov.au.

Accreditation tip – understanding CPR requirements

RACGP Standards for general practices 5th ed (C8.1B, GP3.1A)

The unavailability of evidence that confirms all staff in a practice have undertaken appropriate cardiopulmonary resuscitation training, within the last three years, is a common noncompliance during an accreditation assessment. While CPR training has usually been completed by clinical staff as part of their annual continuing professional development requirements, it is the training of administrative staff that seems to raise issues for practices.

The Standards require that all practice staff have completed CPR training within the last three years or, in the case of clinical team members, in accordance with the recommendations of the professional organisation, and evidence of this training must be available to your accreditation agency and surveyor team. For a GP, completion of CPR training can often be confirmed as part of a QI&CPD statement, which will usually indicate whether a CPR activity has been completed. However, for other clinical and non-clinical staff, a certificate or other evidence will be required to confirm CPR training has been undertaken.

The training must be provided by an appropriate trainer with a CPR instructor's certificate that complies with the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) guidelines on instructor competencies. Training of colleagues can be provided by a member of your clinical team, providing this person has the appropriate CPR instructor's certificate. Alternatively, the practice may wish to engage an accredited training provider.

Online training is not deemed acceptable for CPR training as the ARC requires that trainees physically demonstrate their skills on completion of the course.

When preparing for accreditation, practices should ensure that all members of staff have completed CPR training within the last three years, and that documentary evidence of completion is available. It is worthwhile checking this early on in your preparations, in case training needs to be completed prior to your survey visit. Making the CPR certificate part of an induction checklist will ensure that you are aware of the training status of all new staff. You may also wish to put CPR training on an annual training plan: this will ensure you regularly check the currency of CPR training for all staff, and are able to schedule training for those who require it.

As we approach the end of the 2017-19 triennium, GPs will need to ensure that they have fulfilled the mandatory CPR requirement of their RACGP QI&CPD or ACRRM PDP program. For WA practitioners, the RACGP is facilitating several CPR course sessions across the Perth metropolitan area (plus one session in Albany) between now and mid-November. These sessions are designed to meet the CPR requirements of the QI&CPD program. More information can be found by visiting <https://bit.ly/2K5n3ld>. Practice staff can also access CPR training that complies with ARC guidelines through organisations such as Royal Life Saving Western Australia (<https://bit.ly/2OpPNzr>), the Australian Red Cross (<https://bit.ly/2K3EV6c>) and a variety of other training providers.

NPS MedicineWise update

Getting ready for Be MedicineWise Week 19 – 25 August

The ninth annual Be Medicinewise Week will commence on the 19 August.

This year NPS MedicineWise are encouraging Australians to get to know the language of medicines. Understanding and communicating about medicines is key to getting the most out of them, safely.

NPS MedicineWise has created a range of resources you can download (<https://bit.ly/2OpXUMw>) and use to help spread the important messages of Be Medicinewise Week. The Be Medicinewise Week poster and Medicines list are available in English and 10 other languages.

You can download, print and display these resources in your health setting or community organisation for Be Medicinewise Week (19–25 August).

Immunisation update

Ensure young children receiving influenza vaccine for the first time receive two doses

Recent data in the Australian Immunisation Register (AIR) shows that influenza vaccination coverage in children aged under 5 years of age is currently 47.9%; which is 31.2% higher than at the same time point last year. Your efforts to protect young children from influenza through improving immunisation rates are greatly appreciated.

However, children aged six months to under nine years should have two doses of influenza vaccine (given at least 4 weeks apart) in the first year they receive the vaccine, but many Western Australian children appear to have not yet received their second dose of vaccine.

Approximately 16,500 children aged 6 months to below 5 years have only 1 dose of influenza vaccine recorded on the AIR, and thus should receive a second dose to boost their protection against influenza. Eligible children under 5 years of age are provided the vaccine at no cost through a government funded program. The Department of Health Communicable Disease Control Directorate will be sending SMS reminder messages to parents of eligible children with outstanding doses advising them to receive the second dose, where a mobile phone number is recorded on the AIR.

Overweight and obesity: an interactive insight from the AIHW

The Australian Institute of Health and Welfare has released a new web report on overweight and obesity.

Overweight and obesity is a major public health issue and a leading risk factor for ill-health in Australia. In 2017-18, 67% of Australians aged 18 and over were overweight or obese, with Country WA PHN ranking in the top ten PHNs with the highest prevalence of overweight and obesity. In 2017, Australia had the 8th highest proportion of overweight or obese adults aged 15 and over among 23 OECD member countries with relevant available data.

This web report provides interactive data displays on the prevalence of overweight and obesity, differences in the prevalence between population groups and what is happening over time.

The report can be accessed by visiting <https://bit.ly/2BM1W89>.

HealthPathways update

Newly localised pathways

The HealthPathways WA team has now localised 512 pathways. The most recently localised pathway is

- Antithrombotics in dentistry (<https://bit.ly/2YwCLUv>)

To access HealthPathways, please contact your WAPHA Primary Health Liaison, or email the HealthPathways team at healthpathways@wapha.org.au.

Improved access and pre-planning for NDIS supports for people with complex and challenging needs

Brightwater has developed an NDIS toolkit (<https://bit.ly/2ymOiah>) that General Practitioners can use to guide individuals with complex support needs through NDIS eligibility and preplanning.

The toolkit is for individuals, their families; carers and guardians; as well as health and other human services professionals; and disability service providers. It brings together information about making a successful NDIS Access Request and approaches to preplanning in an effort to provide more adequate and appropriate supports that reflect the individual's needs and goals. The toolkit clarifies roles and responsibilities of all stakeholders.

Stakeholders have helped to develop the toolkit but your feedback is crucial to enable further refinement. Please complete the short survey when you exit the toolkit.

If you have any queries, please contact: rachel.king@brightwatergroup.com

The HealthPathways team would like to invite GPs in your practice to attend the following events:

- Sir Charles Gairdner Hospital GP Education Event: Chronic Disease and Shared Care
Saturday 17 August – please see Education and Training section for more information
- EMHS GP Update: Tackling aging and life-limiting illness – helping our patients to make the most of life
Saturday 31 August - please see Education and Training section for more information

GP Hubs: Supporting your patient in a complex system – an aged care study

Education event for GPs, nurse practitioners, practice nurses, practice managers, and allied health professionals. This activity has been allocated 4 Category 2 RACGP QI&CPD points.

Date: Tuesday 17 September 2019
Time: 5.30pm – 8.00pm
Venue: Connect Victoria Park, 5 Mackie St, Victoria Park

Education sessions include:

- navigating the aged care system
- optimising the care of the older patient – overview of services and collaboration with primary care
- GP Aged Care Hub experience in Cloverdale

John Flynn Placement Program is seeking new mentors

The John Flynn Placement Program (<https://www.ifpp.com.au/>) is designed to attract the future medical workforce to a rural career. The key aspect of the program is that students return to the same rural location each year creating lasting connections with the people and the place.

We are seeking doctors and/or practices (in a RA 2 to RA 5 location) who are passionate about rural medicine to mentor students and inspire them to consider the unique practice offered in rural WA.

Students are matched with a mentoring doctor and/or practice who they visit for two weeks each year for the length of their degree. Placement dates are organised between the student and their mentor/practice at mutually agreeable times; primarily during university breaks in November to February and June to July. Mentors receive an honorarium of $300.00 (exclusive GST) per placement week and are eligible to claim for PDP and CPD points.

For more information or to register, please contact the Future Workforce Project Officer on 1800 231 231 or email ifppwa@healthworkforce.com.au.

Monash University Study: attitudes of health professionals to older person health assessments

Monash University is conducting a short online survey regarding the Attitudes of Health Professionals to older person health assessments. General Practitioners or Practice Nurses who have or could have potentially conduct Medicare-funded older person health assessments are invited to participate. The online survey should take 5-10 minutes to complete and participation is voluntary. To find out more about the research please visit <https://bit.ly/2SMqLJt>.

TGA's review of textured breast implants and preliminary outcomes

As part of ongoing work regarding breast implant associated anaplastic large cell lymphoma (BIA-ALCL), the Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA) has completed its review and laboratory assessment of textured breast implants on the Australian market. The review was announced on 3 May 2019 and involved both laboratory testing and statistical analysis of supply information and the known cases of BIA-ALCL to estimate the risks associated for each type of implant.

As a result, updated information has been released for consumers, as well as a safety alert and a consumer hub. It is recommended that GPs be aware of these developments as consumers are being directed to their healthcare providers for guidance.

The safety alert (<https://bit.ly/2youFi1>) outlines the TGA's proposed regulatory action for textured implants, with a list of affected brands. This information is being provided in the interests of public health and safety, and breast implant recipients are being encouraged to discuss concerns with their medical practitioners.

The TGA also has a page of consumer information on breast implant associated cancer (BIA-ALCL), which describes the cancer, diagnoses, treatment and prognosis, how to identify symptoms, and decision-making around existing implants. This consumer information can be accessed by visiting <https://bit.ly/2Ush4Ui>.

Finally, the breast implant hub (<https://bit.ly/2YrwwgP>) brings together information and resources about breast implants. The hub is updated regularly as new information arises.

Hepatitis C in Primary Care & Drug and Alcohol Settings Education Program – 31 August

People who inject drugs represent approximately 90% of newly acquired hepatitis C (HCV) infections. Clinicians in Drug and Alcohol settings play an important role in improving the health outcomes of people living with HCV and can reduce a patient's risk of developing advanced liver disease through early diagnosis, appropriate management of co-morbidities, and treatment with new, curative, Direct Acting Antiviral medication (DAAs).

This course is designed to strengthen the capacity of clinical staff working in drug and alcohol settings, or working with people who inject drugs, to effectively test for, treat, and manage HCV. The course will be delivered in three parts:

- online learning modules
- interactive face-to-face workshop
- resources and toolkits to enable confident prescribing of new DAAs

For more information, please download the flyer by visiting <https://bit.ly/2RLeV1F>

Australasian Doctors' Health Conference – 22 & 23 November

The Doctors' Health Advisory Service (DHAS) of Western Australia (WA) has great pleasure in inviting you to join them at the 2019 Australasian Doctors Health Conference (ADHC) in Perth on 22 and 23 November 2019.

These conferences have been held biennially in Australia and New Zealand for nearly 20 years, with 2019 being the first time the event will take place in WA.

The theme is the important topic of “Creating a Healthy Workplace”. This will be relevant to doctors at all stages of their career, from medical students, to doctors in training, to doctors established in their chosen career. A particular focus will be looking at the impact of the work environment on a doctor's health, be they a solo private practitioner or working in a large tertiary hospital. Issues will include the effect of medical culture on work life balance, bullying and harassment, and physical and mental health problems. The conference will be relevant to all doctors and medical students, and anyone involved in the training or management of doctors.

Date: Friday 22 November and Saturday 23 November 2019
Time: 9.00am – 5.00pm Friday and 9.00am – 1.00pm Saturday
