

An Introduction to Trauma-Informed Care for Patients

Presented by TRACS WA in collaboration with WA Primary Health Alliance

This training helps us understand why we need a trauma-informed approach for our patients to feel safe. From first contact, when they arrive at our doorstep, when they are in our rooms, how we can show them that we care and that we understand. This interactive session is based on research evidence and has been developed in consultation with Dr Ann O'Neill, founder of angelhands Inc. It will include strategies to support your daily interactions with clients who are affected by past/current emotional traumas.

Event Information

When: Thursday 8th September 2022
Where: Online
Time: 4.30pm- 6.30pm
Cost: FREE

Register Here

Presented by

Jessica Sharp –
Development Facilitator at TRACS WA

'This presentation is a blended style of information sharing and interactive workshop based, we do encourage interaction and discussion.'

Other events in the series:

Using a Trauma-Informed Approach with Aboriginal Patients.
Tuesday 20th Sept 5–6pm
Register Here

A Trauma-Informed Approach in Relation to Self-Care.
Thursday 13th October 5–6 pm
Register Here

For more information, contact the Training & Communities of Practice team at Training.CoP@wapha.org.au or 08 6272 4912.