

Using a Trauma-Informed Approach with Aboriginal Patients

Presented by TRACS WA in collaboration with WA Primary Health Alliance

This interactive training session explores the principles and practices discussed in the previous training session, 'An Introduction to Trauma-Informed Care for Patients' with an Aboriginal focus, utilising patient case studies and creating awareness and acknowledgement of an Aboriginal person-centred care approach.

Event Information

When: Tuesday 20th September 2022
Where: Online
Time: 5.00pm- 6.00pm
Cost: FREE

Register Here

Presented by

Michelle Sultan –
Development Facilitator at TRACS WA

'This presentation is a blended style of information sharing and interactive workshop based, we do encourage interaction and discussion.'

Other events in the series:

A Trauma-Informed Approach in Relation to Self-Care.

Thursday 13th October 5–6 pm

Register Here

For more information, or links to the previous events in this series please send requests to the Training & Communities of Practice team at: Training.CoP@wapha.org.au or 08 6272 4912