

Survey for GPs

As the preferred provider of palliative and supportive care education for health professionals, allied health, and volunteers across Western Australia, PaSCE collaborates with experienced palliative care clinicians to develop evidence-based education that enhances knowledge and confidence in delivering optimal palliative care across all healthcare settings.

Cancer Council WA (CCWA) is dedicated to supporting palliative care education for health professionals, and this legacy is carried on through PaSCE, which builds on the heritage and history of Milroy Lodge as the Cottage Hospice. PaSCE's programs and scholarships are supported by multiple contracts through CCWA's Palliative and Supportive Care Education Team.

The purpose of this is to gather GP feedback to further improve our palliative and supportive care education, particularly for our RACEPC Communicate program.
