Australian Government's Primary Health Network Program

Mental health matters. One in five Australians experience mental health concerns each year, and primary health care nurses are often the first point of support.

Join APNA's Mental Health Education Program—designed for nurses, by nurses—to build the skills, knowledge, and confidence to make a real difference.

- ✓ Expert-led sessions by APNA nurse & licensed MHFA instructor
- ✓ Practical strategies for early intervention
