

WAPHA LEARNING WEBINAR

Refugee health in primary care

Webinar two: Cultural and language considerations and trauma-informed care

Join us for the second webinar in a six-part series about refugee health in primary care, presented in conjunction with WA Health.

This event will provide information about cultural and language considerations and the provision of trauma-informed care, covering the following topics:

- The principles of providing culturally safe health care and how to apply these to working with migrants, refugees and asylum seekers.
- Effective use of professional interpreters to aid culturally safe and responsive communication.
- Providing trauma-informed care and the importance of establishing a safe, therapeutic relationship that acknowledges impacts of previous traumatic experiences.
- Online multilingual resources and local community referral pathways.

To register, click here or scan the QR code above.

WEBINAR TWO

📅 Wednesday 22 April

🕒 6pm to 7pm (AWST)

📍 Webinar

👤 For GPs, practice managers and practice staff

To register, click here or scan the QR code

SPEAKER

Brenda Kamau

Clinical Nurse Manager

Humanitarian Entrant Health Service and WA Tuberculosis Control Program

Brenda is a registered nurse focused on providing a holistic service and breaking down system barriers to access health care services.

She is passionate about bridging the gap between the complex health care system that can pose significant barriers to accessibility, particularly for those from multicultural communities.

Brenda is also part of a number of steering committees to promote diversity within health care.